Magical Books

If you venture into heavier uberlevels, you may come across magic books, there are 12 basic, 3 locked and one special. Bases fall in the Mausoleum, all in the Swampy Pit and in large numbers from the Keepers. Books open and read in the Horadric Cube, never throw away an open book, the game doesn't show as much text and falls, it closes in a cube again (just keep pressing transmute). Each book contains a piece of text to explain its origin, purpose, or just for fun, and the other side mentions something that the book needs to create a special item with it. Each book has its own, so there are 12 of them and every two of them together form one uberitem. Instructions on how to combine the ingredients of the books are in Liber Sapientia (in blue letters) and translating the names of the individual stones will be a breeze for you. Liber Sapientia also forms the key to locked books, they are special, because they describe exactly what they need you to create from them straight away, each of them wants 4 stones from books, Summoning Elixir and other ingredients (maximum 3). Locked books are also longer. To get all 10 uberitems, you must find the base books at least 2 times (some 3 times).
